

National Wildfire Coordinating Group

Wildland Fire Education Working Team

NOW AVAILABLE – “FIRE MESSAGING MATERIALS” CD

NATIONAL WILDFIRE COORDINATING GROUP
WILDLAND FIRE EDUCATION WORKING TEAM
April 18, 2005

One of the goals of the National Wildfire Coordinating Group’s (NWCG) Wildland Fire Education Working Team (WFEWT) is to enhance the awareness of the role of wildland fire in various ecosystems. To reach this goal, the team continues to produce a number of products for land management agencies and their staff to use and distribute to their partners to assist in communicating about wildland fire. The newest product is a CD containing Fire Messaging Materials.

Materials available on the Fire Messaging CD include:

- I. NWCG-approved interagency wildland fire key messages and related documents
- II. PowerPoint presentation that may be modified for local use
- III. Messaging handout titled Wildland Fire: A Natural Process
- IV. Fire Regime Condition Class definitions
- V. Brochure Announcement Wildfire in the United States
- VI. Communicator’s Guide: Wildland Fire

Individuals interested in communicating about the role of wildland fire are encouraged to use these materials along with sharing them with other agencies or organizations that have an interest in wildland fire.

You may request a CD by contacting your agency representative listed on the web site at:

<http://www.nwcg.gov/teams/wfewt/messaging.htm>

Additionally, the materials can be accessed from the NWCG website at:

<http://www.nwcg.gov/teams/wfewt/wfewt.htm> located under the section titled “Fire Messaging Materials.”

Sincerely,

Maureen Brooks

Maureen Brooks
Chair - NWCG Wildland Fire Education Working Team